

February 7, 1975

teach a full Fall semester. But if they are asked to give up even more to serve for $400 a month, it's really asking too much, it seems to me, of the individuals who sacrifice now to serve in this legislative body.

PRESIDENT: Senator Koch.

SENATOR KOCH: Mr. Speaker, members of the body, I rise to support this constitutional amendment. I think it's excellent in every way, shape, and form. In answer to Senator Marsh's question would be I'm certain if this gentleman or lady were going to be a Senator the University would waiver some of those things that might help him a little bit in terms of grades also. I just would urge you to support this amendment. As a new senator I would have enjoyed coming here early in December and having bills introduced and then going home to allow people ample time to review those bills. When we come back here we'd go to full sessions on committee hearings. I think it has great merit and I want to support it.

PRESIDENT: Senator Warner.

SENATOR WARNER: Mr. President, I wonder if maybe Senator Mahoney would yield to one question so I'm clear.

SENATOR MAHONEY: I'd be glad to yield. Senator Warner could you be gracious enough to let me ask Senator Marsh. I think her talk was in the form of a question and I thought I ought to answer that. I think maybe Senator Marsh wasn't listening altogether clearly when we were talking about this. We're talking about one day. We're not going to be taking them out of school for two or three days. Just one day, the second Monday in December. In my University of Nebraska at Omaha they were already on vacation the second Monday in December. They had a whole month and a half off. So I don't see how we're ever gonna cause any problem there.

PRESIDENT: You want to pose your question Senator Warner.

SENATOR WARNER: Mr. President, I think Senator Mahoney has answered my question in that response. I was wondering if it was only going to be one day. It would appear to me highly unlikely that 500 bills as we now have could or would be ready to be introduced in one day. If this is what I understand. If I understand correctly. Maybe I should now ask Senator Mahoney if I do understand correctly.

SENATOR MAHONEY: No that's . . . yes Senator Warner you're right. I would suspect between legislation that old senators have and they are preparing all Summer long with our full-time bill drafters, interim committees getting their bills ready, like this particular bill Senator Johnson had into the hopper early, I would say probably a 100 to 150 to 200 bills would go into the hopper the first day and then we'd go home. The new Speaker would set the second day of the legislative session to be in January.

SENATOR WARNER: Alright. Mr. President, thank you Senator Mahoney. As one from the Lincoln area I certainly think it would be nice to have you all come to Lincoln to do your Christmas shopping in December, but other than that this